The Senator My Ten Years

For 10 years Richard E Burke served as an aide to Senator Edward Kennedy of Massachusetts. Burke's duties included literally running the Senator's life for him both professionally and personally. That makes this book a highly subjective biography of Kennedy since Burke reports that among other things he and The Senator shared were drug use and some of the same women.

A senator's seniority is primarily determined by length of continuous service; for example, a senator who has served for 12 years is more senior than one who has served for 10 years. Because several new senators usually join at the beginning of a new Congress, seniority is determined by prior federal or state government service and, if necessary, the amount of time spent in the tiebreaking office.

Me in Ten Years It is difficult to imagine how I will end up in the future. Let alone looking ten years ahead, I cannot fully describe my life. Somehow, people think about the future as an entirely separate world. Things are different from what they are currently experiencing. Technologies and trends are different. Customs and attitudes are also different. Even physical
